

What is Regulation D?

Regulation D (“Reg D”) is a federal law that limits the number of transfers and withdrawals that you can make from an interest bearing account (Regular Savings, Money Market, or Club Account) at Seattle Metropolitan Credit Union DBA Seattle Credit Union (hereafter “Seattle Credit Union”) to a Checking Account or to a third party. According to Regulation D, you may not make more than six pre-authorized, automated, or telephone transfers/withdrawals from these accounts each month.

The regulation was established to prevent consumers from using interest bearing accounts as transaction or checking accounts. Fees are typically applied to such transfers and withdrawals in order to discourage consumers from using interest bearing accounts as transaction accounts.

Reg D Fees

Savings accounts, which also include Certificates and Money Market Accounts, are not classified as “transaction” accounts and have limited transaction allowances. Regulation D allows for 6 transfers/withdrawals per statement cycle or month. The fee for each transfer/withdrawal above six within that timeframe is $20/transaction.

A: You are allowed up to six Regulation D transactions per month for EACH of your deposit accounts. Example: If you have three savings accounts, each savings account can have up to six transactions per month.

Q: What happens if I go over the limit?

A: Seattle Credit Union will charge an Excess Transaction Fee of $20 on all transfers exceeding the six (6) monthly permitted by Reg D.

Q: How can I avoid being charged the Reg D fee?

- Open a checking account if you do not have one with Seattle Credit Union. Seattle Credit Union provides various checking accounts tailored to your needs.
- Use your checking account for the majority of your withdrawals and debits.
- Keep more funds in your checking account.
- Transfer excess funds from your checking account to your deposit account after you verify it is not needed.
